LACQUERED FLOOR MAINTENANCE GUIDE

To preserve the beauty of your lacquered timber floors, it is essential to use specialist products. Many floor cleaning products are unsuitable for timber flooring as they contain harsh, corrosive ingredients that can damage the lacquer coating, leaving your floors patchy and vulnerable to stains or damage.

Wood is a natural, living material that needs care and protection to prevent drying and cracking – just like our skin.

That is why we recommend a simple care and maintenance regime using WOCA Denmark's specially designed, pH-neutral products for lacquered timber floors.

If you are unsure what surface treatment your flooring has, please check with the manufacturer or contractor who laid your floor. And always patch-test products in an inconspicuous area before use to ensure they are compatible with your flooring.
